

Ayanna Khan is a visionary leader and entrepreneur who has made significant contributions to the economic empowerment and growth of the Black business community in Delaware. With a strong commitment to fostering economic inclusivity and promoting diversity in the business world, she serves as the esteemed president, and CEO of the Delaware Black Chamber of Commerce (DEBCC).

Preceding her founding of the DEBCC, Ayanna's background extended to finance, having worked for a major communication and technology Dow 30 company for 10 years before her launch of Khan Consulting LLC in 2015, a small business consulting firm. Throughout her career Ayanna gained invaluable experience and insights into the challenges faced by Black-owned businesses.

In 2020, Ayanna founded the Delaware Black Chamber of Commerce, a pioneering organization aimed at providing a platform for Black entrepreneurs and professionals to connect, collaborate, and thrive. Under her innovative leadership, the chamber has grown exponentially, in a short amount of time, becoming a powerful advocate for minority businesses in the state. Through strategic partnerships, educational programs, and advocacy efforts, Ayanna has worked tirelessly to break down barriers and create a level playing field for Black entrepreneurs in Delaware.

Ayanna Khan's leadership extends beyond the Delaware Black Chamber of Commerce. She is a respected community leader and a sought-after speaker on topics related to entrepreneurship, economic development, and diversity in business. Her dedication to empowering others is not limited to her professional life, as she actively engages in mentorship and philanthropic endeavors aimed at uplifting her community.
